TAX HYPERION

FOR THE LATEST IN TAX LAW AND POLICY

Tax Hyperion is an exciting monthly publication which is designed to inform tax specialists and general practitioners about recent developments in Canadian tax law and policy. It is written and edited by experts at the leading law firm McInnes Cooper who apply knowledgeable analysis on law and policy developments in clear, concise articles. In most cases subscribers to Taxnet Pro receive TaxHyperion online for free.

Recently Tax Hyperion received a facelift in conjunction with McInnes Cooper assuming sole editorship of the newsletter after seven successful years of co-editing with the national accounting firm Grant Thornton LLP. The new look and feel complements McInnes Cooper's own branding and as such confirms their commitment to providing Tax Hyperion subscribers with current, informed and thoughtful Canadian tax commentary. The firm will continue to present interesting and insightful analysis of topics and laws which are currently of particular importance to tax practitioners while also bringing to light some which may not have been at the forefront of current thought. McInnes Cooper encourages and welcomes all feedback to help ensure the continuance of a fully quality-driven product.
